PLAY ROOM JOSE PELAYO

This artist has taken the material discarded from the construction.

It brought no new elements to the created, the objectivity of his work environment was already there, almost as happens to man field who is on his architecture, its furnishings, with the surrounding natural elements: pieces of wood, planks, sticks old metal doors, shuttering remains ... All that is usually neglected is redefined by Pelayo, gives you a renewed projection, in a world of new and clever songwriting.

Eduardo Cardozo.

The fabrics are the walls. There is a path to the remote past.

Our ancestors plunged into the darkness of time, using the hard surfaces of rocks and natural walls for painting, graffiti, outline reliefs, intentions, sculptures, photographs full of mysteries, allusions, sometimes realistic, sometimes abstract. Stone, rigid surface, governs the captivating beauty of this past.
